

Harpreet, Monica, Emma, Gemma and Ellie,

Having endured 30 years of wishing my teeth looked like yours, many years of research and wishful thinking I finally had the chance to finance my so-called perfect smile. I chose the Park Dental Clinic at Derby. In reality, I didn't have the confidence to choose them, they chose me. I simply visited the Park for a lost filling and dipped my toe in the world of cosmetic surgery.

It wasn't the what can we sell you pitch, but the what we need to do is prepare your oral health before we even consider the way forward that sold it for me.

Suddenly I found I had a team around me, led by Dr. Harpreet, Monica, Emma, Gemma, and Ellie. That team was outstanding, totally supportive, caring, first name terms, post visit welfare checks and above all, there for me. There was no quick fix, but a carefully planned course of treatment with milestones over the next six months and costing's clearly laid out on a pay as you go basis.

On the periphery you notice the little things, the attention to detail, the friendliness, cleanliness and all round customer care and professionalism. So the big day arrived, timekeeping to perfection as always, and a film to watch overhead as the team beavered away.

Not just Dr. Harpreet and her dental nurse Monica, but the courtesy call back home, saying all was well. No pain, just a little uncomfortable lying there for four hours of surgery. Fifteen prepared teeth later and comfort breaks over, back to the business of smile creation and these were only my temporary's.

That look in the mirror and the smile of satisfaction on the teams face, put a lump in my throat and a tear of joy in my eye, I couldn't wait for the final fit.

If you feel the way I did, hiding your smile, hating your teeth, lacking in self confidence, don't go along to the quick fix take them out stick them in, discount dentists in Europe. Have a chat instead to Dr. Harpreet and her team at the Park Dental Clinic, a truly five star dentist practice, with that added attention to detail and customer care.

The night before my final fit I didn't sleep, not through fear but in the knowledge that tomorrow would be the day Harps would deliver my dream. I could not wait to once again smile with those I love and be the man I have always been once again, no longer hiding those twisted teeth.

The team at the Park Dental Clinic don't just deliver, they advise, prepare, discuss and then they deliver, fit and leave you with the smile on your face as well as theirs, simply because they have achieved your dream!

Thanks team
